

Homework: Here are the third grade homework expectations...

Reading: Students may receive either an online assignment or a leveled packet to complete weekly. Materials will be handed out on Monday and are due back the following Monday (unless noted). Comprehension questions will be included in the assignment which will help with comprehension skills and state test prep. Short answers should be written in complete sentences. This homework will only be given if they don't get it done in class by Friday.

Math: Students will usually have two pages of math homework daily (the lesson page may be assigned online). The homework will consist of fact practice and practice that correlates with the lesson taught that day. These are always due the next day. There will not be homework on test day.

Spelling: Study weekly spelling words. Pre-tests are given on Friday and the Test will be on the following Friday.

~Homework completion will be documented and awards will be given for showing responsibility in completing and turning it in on time.

~If time permits, students will be able to begin their homework at school. I understand how precious the evening hours are.
